Hi Mark!

I was the one that spoke to you via phone before you left Rome a few weeks ago about the IT needs you may have for the upcoming EPA visit to Rome and Bologna. I haven't heard anything back since we spoke and want to ensure Rome is able to effectively meet all of your telecommunications needs for this visit. Here are some items that you may need, some of which will need a funding code to implement.

- Cell Phones are available for use while in Italy:
 - iPhone, Samsung, or Blackberries with 1 Gigabyte of Data.
 - If interested, please let me know how many.

- Note: € 18.00 +/- is the calculated daily average cost for VIP visitors.
- Do you want to use 4G WiFi Sticks during the visit?
 - 20 Gigabytes = € 40.00
 - If so, how many do you need?
- Will you require a Radio Frequency?
 - This means you will be using your own preprogrammed radios while in Italy.
 - If a radio frequency is needed, we must place a separate request with the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs two weeks in advance to ensure approval for each city visited.
 - If you are bringing your own preprogrammed radios, how many?
- Will you need any separate ADSL lines installed at the Hotels in Rome or Bologna?
 - If so, what will be the bandwidth requirements?

If you have any other needs or questions, please let me know soonest. If at all possible, please get back to me by COB Friday, May 19, to initiate your orders and set up as needed, k.

Thanks Much, Mark!

Have a Great Day! [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy]

IT needs?

Mark and [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy], I'm reintroducing you. Mark, you might remember a conversation you had with [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] when you were here. We know EPA doesn't want a control room in Rome, but [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] wants to make sure that all technology needs are met by team EPA in Rome.

Team EPA,

Attached is Embassy Rome's schedule. I still need to note each event with no press/photos only/camera spray/open press, but wanted to get this out early. Please let us know if you have any questions.

Thank you Anna! We can share, and appreciate it if you'd share your shells so we know what info you need.

Lee, after you change Friday's schedule, can you please send team EPA our schedule?

Apparently, the Embassy doesn't like welcome kits circulated electronically, so those packets will just be hard copy.

That all sounds great. Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy

If it's possible to provide a few key items from the welcome packet electronically, that would be really helpful as we'd like to include at least some background in the Administrator's book for review before arrival.

As for the scenarios, I've provided the format that we'll be using and I have already started to create "shells" for various events. So please don't worry about putting everything in final form -- we will take care of putting things in the right place and appreciate your providing the "meat". Also please note that we've been asked to keep briefing materials short, crisp and focused so there isn't a need to write anything lengthy.

We also are working on collecting bios and we will share them when we have them.

Thanks again for everything!
Anna

Hi Anna,

We have welcome packets that you'll get on arrival. (Lee, can you check to see how much of the welcome packets are on line?) We'll also do event scenarios.

We'll certainly do a scenesetter. We were hoping that the White House would have made policy decisions before the Leader's Summit that we could include, but it looks like that won't happen, so I'll probably do the scenesetter next week.

We'll provide bios (for country team briefers - Lee, you could put that together now), in addition to others that we'll be meeting with, and will also appreciate your team's bios. (Mark already provided his.)

Cheers,

Hi, [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] --

As mentioned in my previous message (below), we were hoping that Embassy Rome could recommend/provide appropriate background materials on Italy, Rome and Bologna for the Administrator's briefing book. We don't need to include a lot but assume that you have a curated package ready for visitors -- and the materials you provide certainly would be a cut above whatever we could gather via the Google Machine. ; -)

We also were wondering if Embassy Rome was preparing a scenesetter which would be most welcome and would provide valuable context for the Administrator.

Many thanks, as always, for your help with all of this!

Best,
Anna

Fede, thanks so much for this and for all of your help.

FYI, we also are starting to sketch out briefing materials for each event so I thought it would be helpful to share the template that we will be using for your reference. However, we are ready to take whatever information you provide in whatever form you can provide it and we will take care of folding into this format as needed.

We also are starting to explore appropriate background materials and would welcome your sharing the information package that Embassy Rome provides to visitors so that we can include some of those materials, as well.

All the best,

Anna

Dear All

I spoke with Marguccio about Bologna agenda. He accepted the "more intimate settings" of the Food Waste event as proposed by EPA (attached), and will inform the Italians about it to find a good location.

For the rest he proposed the following:

13.30 - 13.40 Welcome by Minister Galletti and Unindustria Bologna President Alberto Vacchi in a private room of the restaurant (Minister +1; Pruitt +1; Vacchi and an interpreter)

13.40-14.30 Lunch (location TBD) - (translation will be provided not clear how) - CG Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy more than welcomed

14.30-15.00 Pruitt-Galletti Bilateral

15:00 Departure for Food Waste Event

15.15 Event "Showcase of Innovative Food Waste Approaches " starts

Best

PS: ESTH is preparing briefing material for each event (both in Rome and Bologna)

Hello Stefano,

Administrator Pruitt welcomes the lunch with entrepreneurs suggested by Minister Galletti. I believe that Hodayah will also want to recommend some U.S. businesses that will be joining us for the G-7.

Regarding the Food Waste event, we are considering some alternative approaches to Showcasing Innovative Food Waste Approaches in a more intimate setting. Hodayah and I will get back to you with some ideas later next week.

Best regards. I hope you are having a wonderful weekend.
